

ABOUT US

Elite Restoration began in 1993 and is a private company with a presence predominantly in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, and with some work in Virginia and Washington D.C. We started our business with one goal: bring the highest level of quality, integrity, and craftsmanship to every one of our projects.

Over 20 years later...steadfast adherence to that vision has made us the foremost Historical Restoration Group in the Mid Atlantic Region. We've done work in seven states for the most prestigious companies, universities, and organizations in the country.

Experience...is the most important tool we bring to the job. Our company leaders have over 60 years combined experience in every phase of the restoration process, and our field team shares decades of experience in every aspect of restoration and preservation.

MISSION STATEMENT

Our Mission is to forge strong partnerships with each of our clients so that each project is delivered with quality and sustainability. Our commitment to our clients is quality work with exceptional craftsmanship.

CORE VALUES

Craftsmanship – Restoration is an art that takes time, knowledge, and passion of the project and process. Our award winning restoration professionals have the creativity and skill to meet the most challenging jobs.

Integrity – What's more important to us than your exacting standards? Nothing. Elite is dependable, thorough, and above all else committed to our customers.

COMPANY LEADERSHIP

Our company leaders have a combined 60+ years with bricklayers and allied craftsmen. Our extensive experience in bricklaying, waterproofing, masonry restoration, concrete work and historic restoration along with our time spent in the field makes us well-versed in every aspect of our business; there's no job we haven't done. Our reputation as the premium restoration contractor makes us sought after by many institutions, architects, engineers and property owners.

Charles Culbertson, Bryan Ralston and Frank Yurick are the back bone of what Elite is today. With integrity and conviction, Elite Restoration preserves history by preserving the beauty of buildings for future generations to enjoy. Elite's core employees have been with Elite for over 10 years. All three Gentlemen are certified in various material applications and have taken a multitude of industry related courses and training through out the years.

"One of the most dependable & professional companies I've dealt with."
